Exhibit VI.L Public Officials

Traditions Resort & Casino wishes to disclose an indirect contractual relationship with the following public official:

Rose Sotak, Town of Union Supervisor
3111 E. Main Street, Endwell, New York 13760
(607) 786-2995

Ms. Sotak is a part time employee of Traditions. In addition to Rose Sotak holding this elected position, she is also a licensed real-estate agency affiliated with Sbarra & Wells, Century 21 Realtors in Johnson City, NY.

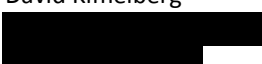

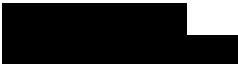

In 2007, the Walsh family, owners of Traditions Resort & Conference Center began a townhome project on property bordering the proposed casino project. In May of 2013, prior to the conceptual development or any initiation of this project by the Walsh family, Ms. Sotak was retained as the listing agent for this townhome project. To date, Ms. Sotak has not been the listing agent for any of the sales of these properties

Except as noted above with respect to Ms. Sotak and below with respect to Manager, Traditions Resort & Casino attests that no other Public Officials or officers or employees of any governmental entity, and Immediate Family Member(s) of said Public Officials, officers or employees, directly or indirectly, own any financial interest in, have any beneficial interest in, are the creditors of, hold any debt instrument issued by, or hold or have an interest, direct or indirect, in any contractual or service relationship with the Applicant, the Manager or their Affiliates.

The Manager's parent entities are governmental instrumentalities of the Seneca Nation of Indians. As such, their board members are deemed to be "public officials" under their respective corporate Charters. Accordingly, the Manager has informed Traditions that its Board of Managers, the members of whom also serve as directors of Manager's direct and indirect corporate parents, may fall within the scope of this Exhibit's requested disclosure in that they are public officials and receive an annual stipend for their services. Such individuals are as follows:
